Dear Members and Friends of ITI, dear Readers

Summer time 2021 is a rather intense period for the General Secretariat of ITI for preparing activities that are happening in the second half of 2021 or even in 2022. That is why the General Secretariat is open over the summer time and you may reach us as usual.

The following news may be of interest to you:

- 11 the Edition of the UNESCO Tracker, with a special report on the meeting of G20 Ministers of Culture.
- 1st Philippine International Culture Policy Virtual Summit, an online event about the creation of culture policies.
- Arca di Pace (Ark of Peace), an conference about peace, with performances, created by the Italian Centre of ITI, with the possibility to watch the conference online.
- Digital Exhibition with the Sound of Thunder: Opera Posters, organized by the North Macedonian Centre of ITI, presenting a collaborative project with students from the Faculty for Art and Design/EU of Skopje.
- the announcement of rules of 2021 Global Competition for Emergent Playwrights on issues arising from the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).
- the call for participation for the 9th Methodika – an international festivl for theatre training methods organized by the World Theatre Training Institute AKT-ZENT / ITI Research Centre in cooperation with Istituto Italiano Pedagogia Teatrale.

And one more thing, Ramendu Majumdar, the Honorary President of ITI, is having a "round birthday" which we announce as well.

Stay in good health and in excellent spirits.

With very best regards

The Team of the General Secretariat of ITI

"Rooting for Our History and Culture to Achieve a Better and Resilient Future"

This monthly Tracker is produced by UNESCO to monitor culture in public policy with regards to the UN Sustainable Development Agenda. It highlights developments within national and regional contexts, as well as emerging debates on culture's contribution to sustainable development. Drawing on a variety of sources, it provides a broad overview of cultural policy trends worldwide at the national, regional and international level and looks at ways in which countries integrate culture into other policy areas.

The July 2021 edition carries a special report on the Meeting of G20 Ministers of Culture and their landmark declaration strongly affirming the vital role of culture across the public policy spectrum. The report explores the five main priorities seized by the Ministers of Culture of the world’s largest economies for revitalizing global economic and social policy.

International Playwrights' Forum Philippines
The Philippine Center's Section of the International Playwrights' Forum in association with the Philippine Centre of ITI, is glad to announce this new Competition for Emergent Playwrights.

2021 Global Competition for Emergent Playwrights on issues arising from the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

Here is an excerpt of the rules:

1. Emergent playwrights of any member country of the International Theatre Institute (ITI) are eligible to join the IPF 2021 Global Competition for Emergent Playwrights. For the purpose of this competition, "emergent playwrights" refers to playwrights of beginning career and / or who have not been awarded with any international playwriting prize.

   >>For list of ITI member countries, click here

2. With the aim to educate audiences on the United Nations' advocacy for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) through playwriting and shared human experience across cultures, the emergent playwright(s) entry must focus on issues arising from the SDGs, with the vision of his / her work as "Womb of Actualizing Health, Peace, Emergency Climate Action, and Social and Economic Justice."

   >>For reference of details on the SDGs as specified by the United Nations (UN), click here.

3. Authorship can be by one or more emergent playwrights. In case there are more than one, a written statement signed by each contributing playwright should accompany the entry as an assurance that each playwright will get an equal share of the award and the honor, should the play win.

4. The entry must be an original work, with a projected performance duration of one hour. Among the reasons for this required length are that:

   a) accommodation for preferred airing on radio broadcast;
   b) international conferences / festivals preference for compact duration of performances; and
   c) the touring possibilities for one-hour plays

5. The entry should not have been "publicly performed" as part of a theatre season or repertory. However, the entry that was previously performed within the following performance contexts are accepted:

   a) laboratory performance / workshop with limited audience;
   b) online dramatic readings; and
   c) performed stage readings

6. The competition will be honoured to receive plays submitted in the original language but should be accompanied with a translation in either English,
9. Five major awards will be given: The Outstanding Play Award, and Four Honorable Mention Awards. The winning emergent playwright or playwrights of The Outstanding Play will receive US Dollar 1,000.00 (one thousand).

10. The Four (4) Honorable Mention Awardees, one for each region (Asia Pacific, Arab & African, Caribbean & Latin American, and Europe & North American Centers) will each receive US Dollars 500.00 (five hundred).

11. The criteria for choosing the winning plays, in unified expression are:

- Dramatic narrative quality & imaginative stylistics;
- Impact and resonance of SDG issues; and
- Theatrical possibilities

12. The winning plays will be shared with every ITI member country for opportunities of production and / or adaptation to radio, television, and / or film.

15. Each entry must be received through email (in pdf form) at ipphil.sdgwomb@gmail.com on or before noon of 15 October 2021.

16. The Awards will be given in appropriate ceremonies either in the Philippines during the SDG Resiliart Festival (December 2021) or in the ITI home country of the winning playwright(s).

The Training as Method
Pescara 2-6 October

World Theatre Training Institute AKT-ZENT / ITI Research Centre in cooperation with Istituto Italiano Pedagogia Teatrale

IX METHODIKA - International Festival for Theatre Training Methods
The Training as Method
2 to 6 October 2021 in Pescara (Italy)

Call for Participation
The Artistic Director Dr Jurij Alschitz invites artists – teachers, pedagogues, actors, directors – to a unique opportunity to share, discuss and develop the most unusual ideas for theatre training and practice. The structure of the festival will provide participants with a unique opportunity to express unrealised ideas. Primarily, METHODIKA will celebrate the artistic aspect of teaching.
There is no participation fee - you only bring your dreams, visions and ideas. All you have to do is to apply to the festival management with your biography and specify in which of the three forms you wish to participate:

1. In an active way, participating in the trainings without presenting your own training or your own production
2. In active way requesting to present your own training and/or your own performance.
Happy Birthday Ramendu Majumdar!

"Dear Ramendu,
The General Secretariat of ITI has found out that you have a "round birthday" on 9 August.

Happy birthday to you, Ramendu. We wish you all the best, good health, good friendships and a good life.

We browsed through our picture archives and assembled some of your portraits here. We are thankful what you have done for ITI in the past as the President of the Bangladesh Centre, then as a President of ITI worldwide and now as an Honorary President of ITI. It is always a pleasure to meet you in Shanghai or at any place on the world. We appreciate that you are always well connected with the Headquarters.

We have also heard that you are preparing a book on your life with ITI. We look forward to hear more about this publication and for sure will announce it to the members and friends over the ITI Newsletter.

Dear Ramendu, we look forward to hear from you soon."

The Team of the General Secretariat

>>>Here you find an article about Ramendu Majumdar published in the Daily Star on 7 August 2021.

If someone would like to send Ramendu Majumdar her or his birthday wishes, we suggest that you do it over his Facebook page or with an email to: ramendu@expressionsltd.com
The fast-growing publishing outfit in the United Kingdom, Cambridge Scholars is at the threshold of publishing a collection of articles on the life works and film oeuvre, of Nigerian / African film Director Tunde Kelani. This collection will emerge as the maiden academic textbook to be so devoted to the explication and analysis of some of the most significant of Kelani’s films till date. The editors (Tunde Onikoyi and Taiwo Afolabi) have deliberately assembled scholars and experts in the field of Nollywood and African cinemas, to offer their unique knowledge on the auteur, and his cinematic endeavors. These essays appeal in structure, and thematic preoccupation while laced with theoretical applications that concretize their individual quality of discourse. Each of the essay attempts, to clearly and coherently clarify the decolonization efforts and cultural subversive tendencies of Tunde Kelani’s films in societies threatened by globalization structures.
