

Dear friends and colleagues, ladies and gentlemen.

Greetings from Shanghai, China, from the General Secretariat Team of ITI.

The lunar new year holiday that China experienced, was not a happy one as it should be.

As you may know, due to the new Corona virus outbreak in a few areas of China, the whole country is now going through some serious problems. Strong efforts to fight against the outbreak and the prevention of more cases are done.

After a 10-day stay-at-home lunar year holiday, the General Secretariat Team has resumed its work on 3 February. If you have any questions or needs, you can still reach the General Secretariat. The work of the office continues to be done. However, as the government and experts strongly suggest, the citizens should avoid gathering. That is why the members of the General Secretariat will work from home for the next two weeks.

We will keep you updated on the situation here. If you have any questions, please write to us over info@iti-worldwide.org.

We wish safety and health to all of you. And we hope that the Chinese people soon will experience safe and healthy days.

Yours sincerely,

General Secretariat Team of ITI
