

Open Call for Participation in the Online Meeting of the ITI Action Committee for Artists Rights ACAR and ITI Theatre in Conflict Zones Network TCZN

Dear Members and Friends of ITI,

You are cordially invited to participate in the online meeting of the ITI Action Committee for Artists Rights (ACAR) and the ITI Theatre in Conflict Zones Network (TCZN) on Saturday, 11 June from 14h00 to 16h00 Paris Time. The current situation of the world is strongly calling for the meeting, sharing and elaborating common artistic practices in relation to conflicts.

The online Meeting will foster a confrontation on the following topics:

- How to promote the sharing of experiences around the conflict and war all over the world, and how to organize artistic activities for refugees;
- How to develop a global ITI reaction scheme to protect theatre artists in case of catastrophes, war and conflict breakouts, favouring the exchange of best practices;
- Sharing experiences on the resurgence of fundamentalism and cultural boycott, the lack of freedom of expression, how artistic groups all over the world have reacted against restrictions, how cultural mobility justice can help in this direction and how the pandemic crisis affected this.

The invitation is open for:

- Members of ACAR and TCZN
- Members of ITI
- Persons who are interested in the topics mentioned above. If you are not a member of the two committees or a member of an ITI Centre but are working on these topics, please send an email with a short CV to Roberta Quarta at project@astragali.org, so that the organizers are informed about your participation.

The online Meeting will be in English.
