ITI Newsletter

Dear Members and Friends of ITI, dear Readers

The International Theatre Institute (ITI) and its International Dance Committee (IDC) and the World Dance Alliance Asia Pacific (WDA) are pleased to announce that the renowned ballet dancer Marianela NÚÑEZ from Argentina has written the Message for International Dance Day 2024.

In this Newsletter and as attachment to it, you find the message and biography as well two photos that you may use royalty-free. Please mention the photo credit: Carlos Villamayor.

Share and publish the Message as soon as possible.

You may send the Message and its translation from now on - to dance venues, dance organizations, performing arts academies and universities, and all the possible interested groups and media to ensure the Message's promotion.

Translations of the Message into various languages are encouraged.

Please translate the Message into the language(s) of your country, and then send the translation to idd@iti-worldwide.org. Please mention at the end of the Message the name of the translator. After receiving your translation, it will be put on the website of ITI and International Dance Day for further use.

Organizing a Celebration event for International Dance Day 2024: Online or Onsite

International Dance Day Message 2024 by Marianela NÚÑEZ

A memory is not enough to make history. And the history of a theatre, like that of each one, is also the history of others, of how an art like dance migrated and grew in different latitudes.

The walls of the Royal Ballet treasure photographs that narrate the journey, history calls for its protagonists and dance in Argentina shines with each of those names.

Often, institutions submerge themselves in silent anonymity, without faces or surnames, avoiding facing the echo of the past.

The organizations promoted and supported by ITI-UNESCO, such as the Argentine Dance Council, that frequently act as a wall that stops forgetfulness.

I am with you all in the commitment to rescue and revitalize the history of masters, artists and choreographers who have enriched the world of dance, deserving of being heard by future generations. Let us all know that we are not spectators, but inheritors of a tradition forged with art, dignity and sacrifice, nourishing our path with vocation and love for beauty. Although the future and the present capture our attention, without the solid foundation of the past, without the fertility of our land, the dance tree cannot flourish. The roots are tradition and at the same time... nutrients.
